

The People's Column

In many sections of Texas, and even as close as Navasota, there have been formed clubs that serve as fishing resorts for people of moderate means who desire to obtain recreation and a pleasant diversion from routine business. Even in Bryan there are two such clubs, that are in part for this purpose.

However, the suggestion is made that a group of Bryan people who might not be able to afford to belong to one of the other clubs, or who for some other reason is not a member, pool a small fund and lease some land adjoining the Navasot River at some favorable place, and fix it up for fishing.

On this site, which could extend from some miles up and down the river from a certain place, could be erected a small club-house at a nominal cost and equipped with cots, boats, kitchen equipment and other essentials to the sport.

This is a matter for some local sportsman to take up and try to get some support. Men of moderate means and salaried or employed people could easily be interested in the proposition.

True love is like ghosts, which everybody talks about and few have seen.—La Rochefoucauld.

IN THE LONG AGO.

Taken from the files of the Houston Post, twenty-five years ago: "Bryan—B. M. Gossett of Kaufman has been selected to deliver the address to the Alumni association of A. and M. college in June. Rev. C. McPherson of Fort Worth will deliver the commencement sermon."

MEANING!

Miss Ito wants to know what the girl from Mineral Wells means when she says, "It goes without saying," and then keeps on talking.—Bryan Eagle.

She means that she is a woman, a near relative to Miss Ito of Bryan and all the women of the world everywhere from Tuscany to Timbuctoo, from Kalamazoo to Kamakura, if there's any such place on the map. She means, dear lady, just what every other woman means when she starts talking and that should be perfectly plain to you.—Mineral Wells Index.

We happen to know just as many women as men with good terminal facilities. If you will remember this question of terminal facilities isn't anything new or doesn't pertain to any particular gender. For when Adam sailed the ocean blue, he had troubles just like me and you. For forty days he drove his ark before he found a place to park.

GLIMPSE OUT OF PAST

From the Houston Post twenty-five years ago: "R. H. Henry, editor of the Jackson, Miss., Clarion-Leader, former president of the National Editorial association, delivered an address before the convention of the Texas Press association. A telegram from Mrs. Frank Vernon at Sipe Springs announced the death there of Frank Vernon, the secretary of the association. Lee J. Rountree read a paper on 'The Newspaper and the Politician'."

The banquet given at the Rice hotel by the Houston Post to the delegates to the convention of the Texas Press association was a fitting culmination to the convention's program. Colonel R. M. Johnson, editor of the Post, acted as toastmaster. Seated near him was John H. Kirby, a large number of Houston people were also guests. Mr. Kirby spoke for the Post, in welcoming the guests. Other speakers were E. W. Harris, retiring president of the association; I. L. Foster, president of A. and M. College; F. B. Baillie, president of the National Editorial association; R. E. Yantis of the Athens Review, Mrs. Seymour Braxton rendered a vocal solo, and Prof. Schram gave a mandolin solo.

POLITICAL POLEMICS

"Where would you place a voter who went into the Democratic primary, who scratched his head and voted for Dr. Butte, but who voted the balance of the Democratic ticket from Genesis to Revelation, so to speak? There are thousands who voted that way. Your opinion would be greatly appreciated as we all read S. P. The above inquiry and affirmation comes from Chillicothe. It was pronounced nearly a month ago, but the proponent shouldn't fancy that S. P. required all that time to come to an opinion. Cases on this docket must take their turn in the order filed. This docket isn't like the Dallas County District Courts, where a system of preferential settings was established not long ago. Being a fundamentalist, State Press believes in the fundamental rule of rotation. A man who voted for Dr. Butte in 1924, and against the Democratic nominee, was a Democrat with reservations. If he voted for only day, one Republican, out of a score of Democratic nominees, he was only one enigmatic certainty. Such a voter can not morally be denied access to the Democratic primary this year, for he is Democratic in principle, and principles, not persons, are what the Democratic party is working for. Our tenets assert it. Our statements reiterate it. Self-preservation demands that the Democratic party shall not drive applicants away, but shall invite them to come in. Besides, there were so many who voted for Dr. Butte it would be inconvenient to lose them. On top of that, partisanship in that direction isn't running as high now as two years ago. State Press is a bit flustered in his thinking at times, but underneath it all he is quite practical.—State Press in Dallas News.

Friendship Bible Class Enjoys Lovely Garden Fete Friday

At a beautifully planned garden party, given on the lawn at the home of Mrs. M. A. Robertson on South Washington Avenue, Friday evening at 8 o'clock, the Friendship Bible Class of the First Baptist Sunday School held its monthly business and social meeting. Strings of bright blue Japanese lanterns shed a soft, colorful glow over the smooth, grassy lawn, where chairs were arranged for the class meeting. Many roses and ferns, with red geraniums, added a touch of floral beauty, and linked with the cordial hospitality extended by Mrs. Robertson, Miss Emma Mae Robertson, and her assistant hostesses, the evening was one of pleasure throughout.

The business session was presided over by Miss Maude Brown, president of the Friendship Class, assisted by Mrs. Roy Nunn, president of the Homemakers' Department. Reports from standing committees were given by Miss Artie Smith, Mrs. Frank P. Martin, Miss Myrtle McCullough, Mrs. Elmer Reed, Miss Mae Sowards, Mrs. N. L. McCullough, Mrs. E. H. Gibbons. At the close of the business hour, Mrs. Albert Buchanan, the Bible teacher, brought a message to the class, taking for a subject "Class Opportunity." In the name of the class, Mrs. Buchanan then presented as perling love gifts beautifully bound Bibles to Mrs. Elmer M. Dodson and Miss Artie Barron, who are serving their connection with the class.

A program of pleasure in the form of contests was then enjoyed, during which the hostesses served refreshment of candies, ice cold soda water, and ice cream cones. At a late hour the guests said good-night to their delightful hostesses, assuring them of their unusually pleasant evening they had enjoyed. Those present were: Miss Maude Brown, Bess Withers, Minnie Cahill, Artie Lou Smith, Nora Ward, Alice Locke, Lillian Ferguson, Myrtle McCullough, Cecil Kirkland, Artie Barron, Emma Mae Robertson, Lillian Hammock, Jewel Mathis, Thelma Pritchett, Mesdames C. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has appointed Mrs. Albert Buchanan an honorary associate member of the Texas National Advisory Commission to the Sequel Centennial Exhibition to be held at Philadelphia, Penn., June 1st to December 1st in celebration of the One Hundred and Fiftieth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. BRAZOS COUNTY NEEDS SMALL CANNERY TO TAKE CARE SURPLUS PRODUCTS

Mrs. W. T. Horton sent to The Eagle office this morning a big cabbage head, weighing 16 pounds, also a white Bermuda onion measuring 20 inches around and 15 inches across. Some onion, we say! The cabbages were grown on the J. C. Cloud farm at Reliance. This is just another tangible evidence that Bryan needs a cannery factory to save all this surplus food that is going to waste. If the people of Brazos county would just save all the vegetables and food stuff grown in the county it would mean the saving of thousands and thousands of dollars.

Old Millican Resident Heard From By Mail

"R. E. McGregor and son, Kenneth, were doubly appreciative of a radio concert last night from KPRC, of Houston, Texas, J. I. McGregor, nephew of R. E. McGregor, gave a lecture to farmers. He is agricultural agent of the Southern Pacific railroad at Houston. His connection with Henderson, Kentucky, was more firmly established when, as an aviator in the world war, he was associated with the late Olivera Dixie, of Henderson."

The foregoing is a clipping from the "Daily Gleaner", Henderson, Kentucky, May 12, 1926 issue. The Eagle is in receipt of additional information regarding the R. E. McGregor, referred to in the above. He is a native of Brazos county, having been born and reared at Millican, where a brother, C. B. McGregor, still resides and is a subscriber to the Eagle. Through his brother, Mr. McGregor, at Henderson, often gets copies of the Bryan newspaper.

J. I. McGregor, spoken of in the article, is the son of C. B. McGregor, Millican, and a graduate of the A. and M. College.

Did not even have a puncture on the entire trip and there were no incidents of any consequence."

"We wanted to go by way of Martin and since the bridge was washed out north of Calvert, thought best to go by way of Wheelock and Franklin. We may have thought that they were best, but in reality were worst. Sure encountered bad roads clear into Waco and did not get there until about 8:00. We then spent three hours in Waco looking up old friends of mine of the days when my army command put in the pontoon bridge over the Brazos River, after the old one had washed away."

"We left Waco an hour before midnight and arrived at Fort Worth at three o'clock. Would have made Fort Worth by midnight if we had not stopped over so long in Waco—even with night driving and not knowing the road or the whereabouts of sharp curves. We adopted the policy of following the car ahead and watching the tail-light to see where the curves were."

"Leaving Fort Worth at 11:00 Sunday morning, we took easy stages to Olney. Had a good night's rest in a Fort Worth hotel and our car in reliable storage. Found many friends in Fort Worth, too, where I used to live. Talked to some of them on the telephone."

"It is a most beautiful country from Fort Worth to Wichita Falls. The scenery around Mineral Wells is fine. As soon as we arrived at the latter city we got Sunday dinner at the cafe and went around to the Mineral Wells Index office. J. Sam Miller, editor of above-mentioned publication, was standing on the porch of the hotel which was next door to the newspaper office. I had a suspicion that the man looking at us as if we might be suspicious characters was Mr. Miller, and indeed he was. So I introduced myself and he said, 'Well, well—Mrs. Rountree's happy man!'"

"We sat down on the front porch—the three of us—and visited over newspaper work in general for some hour or so when I began to dream on what we might do on our trip ahead and not get to Olney that night. Biting my tongue, Mr. Miller, who seemed our direct line, we were before we left, extending true hospitality, we started out from Mineral Wells about three o'clock, arriving at Olney about 7:30 and the roads were dirt roads and rough. We had had good roads from Waco to Mineral Wells."

"From Mineral Wells to Graham is a most desolate section of country, from a farmer's viewpoint, though it might be a ranchman's paradise. But, when one gets to Graham, something more than half the way between Mineral Wells and Olney, the tree-chad hills gave way to the more rolling plains and we began to see agriculture coming into its own. The fields of oats made me think of Kansas and the many wheat fields made me think of both Kansas and Wisconsin (tell H. D. Bruston and Mr. Weineke that). Oats in some fields were quite ripe and in others still green, due, I suppose, to the different times of planting."

"Both wheat and oats were rather short on the stalk but the heads were well filled out and loaded with nice plump grains that should test well. I got out and examined some of it, and it certainly looked fine."

"The agricultural country around Olney looks good to me. It is not broken up as much now as it probably will be in a few years. Olney is a good little town now but of much promise. There's the oil threat, of course, which is more than a threat, but the city is new, thriving and everyone seems to be wide-awake and industrious."

"Arriving at Olney we immediately hunted up our friend and friend of the A. and M. College, Ralph Shuffler, editor and owner of the Olney Weekly Enterprise. He was busily engaged at the supper table but took time to come out and talk to us. He then excused himself, finished supper and took us over to the home of the Mayor. How's that for putting on style in a strange land?"

"The Mayor is a fine man of middle age, or under, and a true sportsman. He is a fisherman, too, but could not go to the lake with us because of an association meeting at Fort Worth that he has to attend all this week. He and Mr. Shuffler, Mr. Phillips and myself talked for a time and they told us that they would find some one to show us the way to the lake early Monday morning. They said we could not possibly find the way as the trail led through ranch pastures, over hills and hollows, crum and crum-crowned by other trails that would lead one astray. To go on last night, in the darkness, would have been the height of folly."

"Phillips and I drove out to the edge of town, found a grove of trees along side of the road, parked the car and using it for one side of a tent, utilized a wagon cover and by driving other stakes in the ground, we made our tent, made our beds on folding cots, and after a pleasant social conversation, dozed off into slumberland."

"Next morning we came back to town, got a good breakfast, and a supply of groceries to last us all the week and we are now in the Olney Enterprise office, waiting for Mr. Shuffler or whoever is going to the lake with us, to put in an appearance."

"The hospitality and welcome of this section is typical of the West and reminds me very forcibly of the Colorado plains country. Everyone is your friend until you have given them reason not to be and we certainly rank as high here in this country. Perhaps we won't know they know us better, but then we're going away out to the lake and they won't have a chance to see much of us."

"Lake Kemp is about 125 miles around, the Mayor told us, and is of a blue, sea-green color and not yellow. There is a magnificent club house there, that they are going to take us to and turn over to us. The club house has a fine screened-in porch on which we will pitch our beds, though there are already beds there. They have all kitchen equipment, but, of course, we brought some of ours along with us."

"Mr. Shuffler just walked in the door. He is going back out again in a moment to get someone to go with us. Could not find any one last night. Don't know whether they're afraid of company or not. Anyway, Shuffler and the Mayor both are certainly fine fellows and as accommodating as can be. You may know that we greatly appreciate the courtesies and hospitalities they are extending us."

"I must close this letter, in haste, as things are shaping up for us to start. Will not have an opportunity to write again as the nearest town to the lake is some 15 or 20 miles from it and we may not get into town again until Saturday morning when we start back home via the same route we came. Wishing The Eagle office and friends well and with regards to all my friends at Bryan, we're off for the interior and the close communion with nature and her funny denizens of the deep."

L. S. Ross Chapter U.D.C. Holds Last Meeting of Year

With twenty ladies assembled in the hospitable home of Mrs. V. B. Sage on east 37th street, Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock L. S. Ross Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, held its last historical meeting for the year.

With the president, Mrs. Albert Buchanan, presiding, Mrs. Edna Jones was assisted by Mrs. G. M. John, and with the little son of the home, John Edige, opening the chapter and giving first welcome, the chapter members were cordially received.

An important business meeting was held, with Mrs. J. W. Dyer acting as secretary pro tem in the absence of Mrs. Edgert Jones. The treasurer, Mrs. J. B. Stevenson made a splendid report of dues paid in, and a balance in the chapter treasury. Standing committees reported the work of the year, in the historical context, the hanging of pictures of Confederate generals in the schools of the city, well done completing one of the very best records of educational work in the history of the local chapter.

The special committee in charge of a program of entertainment for the reunion meeting of Hood's Brigade in Bryan, made report that a band had been secured, a program planned and a musical program well in hand. This special committee is composed of Mrs. H. B. McDowell, chairman, Mrs. Ben Maxwell, Mrs. E. C. Ferguson and Mrs. Ruby Butler.

One new member was welcomed at this meeting. Mrs. W. E. Thomas, whose father was one of the honored members of Hood's Texas Brigade. When business was finished, the meeting was turned over to the chapter historian, Mrs. P. S. Park, and a splendid program, as already published in the Eagle was rendered.

A refreshment plate of pineapple ice with angel food, with a spray of sweet peas and ferns on each place was prettily served as a finale of this delightful meeting.

A. R. LECKIE IS HERE TO MAKE ROAD SURVEY

RESIDENT ENGINEER STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT IS IN BRYAN TODAY.

Bryan And College BIDS WILL SOON BE LET FOR RE-CONDITIONING BRYAN-COLLEGE PAVED ROAD

A. R. Leckie, of Austin, resident engineer of the State Highway Department, detailed to make a survey and sketch plans for the reconditioning of the paved highway between Bryan and College Station, the work to include resurfacing and widening. Mr. Leckie stated that bids would be advertised just as soon as work of the survey was completed and accepted by the commission.

Mr. Leckie's policy is to always use as many local men as possible and it is thought he will be able to recruit much of this from the graduate students of A. and M. College. He himself is a graduate of the institution and was at A. and M. from 1897 to 1901, a classmate of E. H. Astin, president of the City National Bank, who was better known as "Babe" Astin and "Switch Engine" on the football team. Mr. Leckie says that coming to Bryan is like coming home after a 25 years' absence.

Miss M. E. McCarty, who has been such a helper to the association during all the years of her residence in Bryan, came before the association at this meeting and introduced Roy Driver, president of the senior class, who in a charming speech of appreciation of the P. T. A., presented to the association a check for $50, a gift from the class. Mrs. Albert Buchanan, secretary-treasurer of the P. T. A., accepted the splendid gift in a short speech.

Mrs. Jones then turned over the gavel to the incoming president, Mrs. H. B. McDowell, who took charge of the meeting. Among the important things discussed and passed upon for the coming year were to raise the annual dues of the East Side Parent-Teachers Association from 50 cents to $1; to support the high school cafeteria in a larger way; to issue a year book for the entire nine months term; to make the Art Exhibit at the high school an annual affair.

Mrs. Albert Buchanan, secretary-treasurer, then made her annual report for 1925-26, as follows:

Mrs. Buchanan's Report.

In making this annual report of the East Side Parent-Teachers Association for the term of 1925-26, as secretary-treasurer I bring you record of "good work, well done."

Mrs. Edgert Jones, who has served as president during the past term, has been untiring in her work, and with an enthusiasm and optimism unbounded, has led the Association with marked success. Early in her year of office, Mrs. Jones won the confidence and co-operation of both the parents and teachers and together they have accomplished a mighty and far-reaching work.

From every angle in P. T. A. work, the notes of the monthly meetings for the year just closed show the progress made.

The first achievement of the year was to secure 100 members which was more than three times the number secured in any former year.

The establishing of monthly educational programs in connection with the business meetings of the association brought pleasure and profit. Among those appearing on these programs during the year were: Mrs. Maggie Barry, Miss Lola Blair, Miss Elizabeth Curtis, and others.

The grounds around the school building show the touch of the hands of Mrs. Jones, the president, and her capable committees.

The high school cafeteria, one of the greatest blessings and achievements of the year, proclaims a victory for Mrs. Jones' administration, as it stands firmly established and promising even greater things for the coming

Mrs. A. T. Towler and son, J. W. Towler, formerly of Benchley, Brazos county, but now of Eldorado, Arkansas, were in Bryan today greeting old-time friends.

Mrs. Towler and son were on route by auto, from Houston, where Mrs. Towler had been for a week's visit to her mother, Mrs. J. W. Cook. They left Bryan after a short visit for Kosse, thence to Mexia, Corsicana, and then home. Mr. Towler has been following the oil game since he left Benchley and fair fortune has favored him in splendid returns.

N. A. McWhorter and J. W. Harris of Tabor were Bryan visitors Saturday.

FIVE BRYAN ENDEAVORERS WIN HIGH GRADES IN LEADERSHIP

That one of the main purposes of Christian endeavor, an inter-denominational organization, is to train young people for future church leadership, is evidenced by the fact that seven members of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Free Baptist church have just completed a three month's course in the study of the Christian Endeavor Expert Book by Amos R. Wells.

This book discusses in detail the principles of Christian Endeavor, the purposes of its organization, some of the results accomplished in the 80,000 societies over the world and clearly outlines the duties of all the officers and committees necessary to carry on in an efficient way the task of the society. It suggests methods for improving the society and making the prayer meetings, or regular weekly meetings where the lessons are discussed, interesting and beneficial as well as ways of getting new members or inexperienced ones to take part. It emphasizes the observance of the pledge which is a definite standard of characters which the Endeavorers promise to try to reach. Both home and foreign missionary work is included and the ultimate aims of the Tenth Legion or the work of the tithe-ing club of the Endeavorers. It contains also some rules pertaining to parliamentary law that are to be used in conducting business meetings in a business like manner and that assist in the keeping of accurate and up-to-date records of all business transacted and work done by the society. To say the least, the whole study course is very interesting and helpful.

The United Society of Christian Endeavor, with headquarters at Boston, offers certificates in recognition of those who complete the course and pass the examination. The requirements of this examination are that the answers to one hundred questions, based on the Expert Book, be given in writing and are to be graded by three members of an examination committee, the final grades being sent to the Boston office.

There were five to complete the course and examination: Miss Lena Wooten, Mrs. Eric Fletcher, Mrs. H. E. Edge, Miss Lily Belle Gilpin and H. P. Spencer, one with a grade of 97 3-4, another making 99 and three each with an average of 100. This is quite a distinction for these Endeavorers and is also just one step more in the training of young people for church leadership.

EAST SIDE PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION IN FINAL MEETING HEAR FAREWELL ADDRESS

At the final meeting of the East Side Parent-Teachers Association, held Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the high school building, Mrs. Edgert Jones, the retiring president, expressed her appreciation of the splendid co-operation given her during the year by all members of the association, the teachers and the parents and also thanked her standing committee chairmen who have so successfully carried out the plans and purposes of the year.

Mrs. B. U. Sims and Mrs. J. T. Hanway, members of the high school cafeteria committee, were present and gave a splendid report of that work. They asked for better equipment and more room for the cafeteria during the next school year, and showed in facts and figures what a benefit the cafeteria has already proven to the school children.

Mrs. S. C. Williams made report of the grounds committee, and while her report was most satisfactory, those present had only to look upon the riot of color and beauty in flowers around the school buildings, and the well cut lawn and stately palms over the grounds to know that this part of the work of the P. T. A. is a success.

Miss M. E. McCarty, who has been such a helper to the association during all the years of her residence in Bryan, came before the association at this meeting and introduced Roy Driver, president of the senior class, who in a charming speech of appreciation of the P. EACH AGREES TO RESIGN FROM OFFICE IF BEATEN IN PRIMARY

SHE CHALLENGES!

HE ACCEPTS!

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson

Attorney General Dan Moody

MRS. FERGUSON'S CHALLENGE

"So, I make this challenge to the Attorney General. The primaries come on July 24. Regardless of the result, he and I could stay in office until the second Tuesday in January, 1927. But I will agree that if he leads me one vote in the primary that I will immediately resign without waiting until next year, if he will agree that if I lead him 25,000 votes in the primary on July 24, he will immediately resign."

MOODY'S ACCEPTANCE

"I want to say that the public offices of Texas are not to be wagered away, or bartered away, or otherwise disposed of than is provided in the Constitution and in the popular will. But, this campaign is an issue between Fergusonism and the rights of the people... and so eager am I to rid Texas of everything they stand for, that I accept the challenge issued by Jim in his wife's name. It makes it impossible and unnecessary to discuss anything else than Fergusonism; it assures the State of a short, quick, and decisive engagement, with a final result on the night of July 24."

DR. H. E. STOUT, PRESIDENT OF T. W. C., FT. WORTH, DELIVERED ALLEN BACCALAUREATE SERMON

Dr. H. E. Stout, President of Texas Woman's College, Fort Worth, delivered the baccalaureate sermon in the forty-first commencement of Allen Academy yesterday. Dr. Stout held the rapt attention of the large crowd that packed the auditorium of the First Methodist church as he presented a practical, intensive message in eloquent language based on three closely related incidents in the life of the Master. The three passages used were: He took bread and broke it and gave to the disciples; He took a towel and girded himself and washed the disciples' feet; He took the cup and drank it.

From the first passage the speaker developed the fact that the normal individual has a three fold nature—a material frame that experiences physical hunger, a mental capacity with a thirst for acquiring knowledge and a spiritual nature with longings to know the unknowable prompted by the immortality of the soul. The student was depicted as an explorer going into the great fields of knowledge and opening up new territory in the realm of thought. He is assisted in these adventures by efficient instruments such as the microscope and the telescope which have been perfected in modern times to increase his ability to discover truth.

DR. THOMAS W. CURRIE, AUSTIN, DELIVERED BACCALAUREATE SERMON FOR BRYAN HI SCHOOL

On Sunday, May 23, the Presbyterian church was beautifully decorated with ferns, gladioli, carnations and sweet peas, on the occasion of the Baccalaureate service for Bryan High School. The blending of the flowers and the class colors of pink and green more than did justice to the artistic tastes of the decorators. Seats were reserved for the parents of the Seniors of Bryan High School and the parents were there en masse.

The people of Bryan can certainly be proud of the girls of the class of '26. A more beautiful group of girls has never before gone from Bryan High School. It is true that individuals have graduated from Bryan that are better looking than any individual in this class, but as a group of girls no other class can even challenge them. Furthermore their intelligence and wit and many accomplishments rank with this beauty.

The people may also be proud of the boys. Not one of them can lay claim to being beautiful but as athletes, musicians and real boys few classes, if any, have turned out better.

Dr. Thomas W. Currie, President of the Austin Theological Seminary of Austin, Texas, delivered the baccalaureate address of this senior class. Dr. Currie made a wonderfully inspiring talk on "The Golden Rule". His talk was adapted to the occasion and was delivered in a delightful and interesting way. The seniors say that all that could be said in praise of Dr. Currie would not be sufficient.

Dr. Currie divided his sermon into five parts. 1, Introduction; 2, The Golden Rule in Race Relations; 3, The Golden Rule in Industry; 4, The Golden Rule in Diplomacy; 5, The Golden Rule in War.

In his introduction Dr. Currie

E. E. Cochran of Livingston Is Allen Winner

Ernest E. Cochran of Livingston, was the winner of the oratorical contest held Saturday night, May 22nd, at the Allen Academy auditorium. This entitled him to be the recipient of the orator's medal offered by Judge W. C. Davis. The young man who won the contest had keen competition, and interest was unflagging during the whole of the evening.

The five entrants in the contest chose masterpieces of modern oratory for delivery. Mr. Cochran gave Daniel Webster's version of Samuel Adams' speech for the adoption of the Declaration of Independence. In his delivery he had a happy combination of a resonant voice and fine stage presence. He was followed by W. O. Alexander, who delivered Pat M. Neff's Armistice Day Speech to the American Legion. He delivered the address well and was awarded second place. George Allen gave Patrick Henry's famous "Appeal To Arms" with a fervor worthy of the great Virginian himself. Glenn Marlowe possessed greater poise and dignity than any other of the contestants, as he delivered Raymond Poincaré's "Call To Arms". "Against Whipping in the Navy", by Commodore Stockton, was given by Joe Balderach in a voice noteworthy for its strength and clearness.

During the interval before the announcement of the decision of the judges, Mr. Albert Gray gave several violin selections. Judge Davis honored the occasion with his presence, and in happy manner expressed his appreciation of the contest, and presented the medal to Mr. Cochran.

The contest was attended by the faculty and student body of the Academy and by a number of invited visitors from Bryan. It was preceded by a picnic supper and the awarding of athletic honors on the E. O. Allen lawn. These exercises of Saturday night are the preliminaries to the formal Commencement exercises of Allen Academy, which are going on during the present week.

FERGUSON CROSSING ROAD MAY BE GIVEN A GRAVEL SURFACE

College Paved Highway Be Re-Surfaced and Widened Before Fall, Is Indicated by A. R. Leckie, Resident Engineer of State Highway Department, Now In Bryan Making Survey.

One of the most important meetings in many months of the Board of Directors of the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce was held this morning at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. President Mrs. Lee J. Rountree presided at this regular Tuesday morning session. At this meeting it was reported that more than $1,500 had been raised for the Allen Academy-Bryan Chamber of Commerce Good Will Tour to start on the morning of May 31; that preliminary surveys had been made with the object of graveling the Brazos-Grimes county highway over Ferguson Crossing on the Navasot River; that the Bryan-College highway would be re-conditioned and widened and made ready for use before fall; and other matters of less import. A group of men from Teague, who were here to find out about Bryan's plan of marketing cotton, were special visitors at the Chamber of Commerce meeting.

COMMITTEE REPORTS

There was but a small attendance at the session of this morning, four of the directors being out of town and others busy in court or kept away on account of sickness of themselves or relatives. Visitors present were D. E. Green, I. H. Neyland, J. S. Ervin and M. W. Bendy, all of Teague, a special committee to investigate Bryan's cotton-marketing plan, Bryan being the only town in Texas to have adopted this method. Mr. Neyland, as spokesman for the party, addressed the meeting and stated their object in visiting here and that Mr. Eberstadt had insisted on their remaining over here for the Chamber of Commerce meeting. He said that after the meeting the party expected to have a conference with Joe M. Lawrence on the subject of their mission. They expressed themselves as much pleased with Bryan.

Large Fund Raised

Travis B. Bryan reported for the special committee on the Allen Academy-Bryan Chamber of Commerce Good Will Tour, soliciting other members of which committees were Eugene Edge, chairman, and J. M. Gordon, the latter two being unable to be present. He reported that, as instructed, the committee had canvassed the business interests and raised a total of $1,565.50 for the purpose, same being turned over to Principal N. B. Allen of the Allen Academy, who was present at the meeting today.

Mr. Allen, in response to the address of Mr. Bryan, stated that he could never forget this wonderful response so graciously given and that he just did not know how to express his gratitude, but that the Allen Academy pledged itself and its best efforts, as well as its equipment and personnel, to do everything it could for the upbuilding and betterment of Bryan and Brazos county. One thing in particular, he said, was that the Allen Band could be depended upon to accompany the Bryan business men on their good will tour next year, should the tour come while the school was in session, the trade trip to be made at the Academy's expense. He also extended a most cordial invitation for the directors and Bryan citizens to attend the commencement exercises of the institution which come this week.

Tyler Haswell, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce, reported that Green's Brigade had accepted the Chamber of Commerce's invitation to hold their annual meeting this year in Bryan at the same time that Hood's Brigade holds its annual reunion. Joe M. Lawrence, chairman of the highway committee, introduced A. R. Leckie, resident engineer of the State Highway Department at Austin, who stated that just as soon as he can organize his office and force he will begin work on the Bryan and College road and expects to stay on the job and work until it is completed. This report will be given to the Highway Commission and by the end of the summer the road should be finished, he said.

Mr. Lawrence called on J. W. Batts, who was present, to discuss the Ferguson Crossing proposition. He said that plans were to build a sand-gravel road across the bottom to the Grimes county line, same to cost in the neighborhood of $3,000. D. L. Wilson reported that he had talked to Mr. Connolly of Grimes county who had stated that the tractor could be rented for the work and that Grimes county would take care of that part of the road work. A motion carried that the committee of D. L. Wilson, Allen Smith and E. E. Yeager confer with J. W. Batts and other interested parties and make definite report of this proposition at the next meeting.

A. M. Waldrop, chairman of the city development committee, reported that the water trough had been removed from North Main Street and located on city property east of Main; and that material had been located to build hitching racks in the same location where most convenient. He also stated that Walden's Bryan Business College had opened its doors Monday morning with fifteen students.

President Mrs. Rountree reported that Victor Schoffelmayer would be at Kurten on next Monday night and asked that every member of the Board of Directors be present.

Secretary Eberstadt reported on his trip to Carthage and also on the proposed Allen Academy-Chamber of Commerce Good Will Tour, stating that the party would leave Bryan in four trucks at 7:00 o'clock on the morning of May 31 and be gone until June 15, visiting 80 towns and covering a distance of about 1,900 miles. Accompanying the Allen Band will be its director, E. A. Lightfoot, Athletic Coach C. B. Hudson, and Secretary S. E. Eberstadt of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Eberstadt stated that he had written letters to secretaries of chambers of commerce in the towns to be visited, asking them to have good crowds present on the occasion of the visit of the Good Will Caravan from here.

Spring's sweetest flowers were heaped upon her new made grave, a veritable bank of exquisite floral gifts from her many, many friends in this and other cities, expressed in beauty and fragrance the love of hearts made sad because of the passing of this beloved christian wife and mother.

D. L. Weddington Head Men of Church

Not the largest (and not the smallest) but possibly the most intense and heartfelt meeting which the men of the First Presbyterian church have ever held was last night in the annex when seventeen men met for a combination of refreshment and strength to body, mind and soul. It was generally felt that more should have come and those who were not present missed a treat but those who were present did something worthwhile and with most wonderful unanimity and goodfeeling.

Several things combined to make the meeting one of more than ordinary importance and deep feeling. It rounded out a year's work with the twelfth monthly meeting, it included the election of officers for the coming year and it was the first meeting at which our new pastor was present. The year has not been marked by any single special and noteworthy achievement but it has seen such things as putting the organization on its feet, helping raise funds for the support of the Master's work in its various phases and helping to choose and then pledging most loyal support to our pastor.

The past year has "broken in" two most efficient officers, a "peppy" president in the person of J. Bryan Miller and a faithful secretary and treasurer, Fred L. Cavitt. And the coming year gives promise of equally satisfactory service from the new president, D. L. Weddington, and the same old but always new and busy secretary and treasurer. The new president in a very practical and common-sense statement promised to at least be "among those present" every time and to do everything possible for the upbuilding of the men of the church and of the work generally.

Our pastor, Rev. Thomas Gordon Watts, was present and asked to be "counted in", not only as pastor but also as one of the men of the church, working shoulder to shoulder in a common cause. He also asked for and was wholeheartedly promised the genuine and personal friendship of each and every man of the church, not only in the special realm of the church and its work but also about our city, on the streets and wherever we can learn to know each other better and serve more fully.

"Votes of thanks" seemed to be the order of the day and these were given to the ladies of the church for the "eats" they have served from time to time, to Mrs. Roy Danforth for her presence and patience in trying to get us to sing and for playing for us, to J. Bryan Miller for his leadership and to Fred L. Sloop for his work in connection with giving some publicity to the meetings.

The needs of the inner man for refreshment and for variety were well met by the supper served by the ladies, by the music given by Mrs. Danforth and by two readings by Miss Maurine Neesley.

Those present were as follows: T. H. Black, Fred L. Cavitt, F. T. Cole, F. D. Fuller, H. C. Gibson, W. O. Hearne, Robt. C. Irvine, W. L. McCulloch, L. L. McInnis, J. Bryan Miller, B. S. Reed, Fred L. Sloop, Elton Stuart, Robert Thomas, C. R. Voge, Thos. Gordon Watts, D. L. Weddington.

JOINT PICNIC ENJOYED BY BRYAN AND HEARNE ROTARY CLUBS SETS RECORD WHEN VOID OF SPEAKING

The joint picnic enjoyed on Thursday evening by the Hearne and Bryan Rotary Clubs, together with many visitors from both towns, marks a new record in sociability and good fellowship by these organizations.

The location was a beautiful grove bordering the King's Highway and the H. and T. C. railway at a point near Sutton, this place having been selected several days ago by a joint committee from the Bryan and Hearne Rotary Clubs. The umbrageous oaks dotting a well-drained hillside afforded a wonderful place for improvised swings for the many children present, and the broad acres made outdoor games most enjoyable.

The occasion was void of speech making, the time all being taken in unadulterated enjoyment of good fellowship, Rotary songs, music by the Hearne Music Club, and eats—the like of which is rarely seen, or more enjoyed.

Charlie Griesser of Bryan had provided a Deleo plant to supply necessary lighting, the Hearne Rotary Club had brought loads of soda pop, ice cream and sherbet, and the Western Public Service Company of Bryan had provided four barrels of Bryan's good ice water. With all these good things to eat and drink there was nothing to do except just to "eat, drink and be merry."

On adjournment, Dr. Cummings of Hearne stated that he hoped such meetings would be repeated, adding that the highway between Hearne and Bryan would be repaired and that the two Rotary Clubs might cooperate in a movement to have the two neighboring towns connected by a fine highway. The promoters of this picnic are to be congratulated, because it went over with a "howling" success.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Stephens Are Held Today

Mrs. Nellie Harris Stephens, passed away at her home on west 27th street, this city, Monday, May 24th at 3:45 p. m. after an illness of several weeks. The news of her death, while not unexpected at this time, has brought sorrow to every heart, for her life was so sweet, her deeds so gracious, as to touch all who knew her with a true and genuine appreciation of her as a noble christian woman. During her last illness, prayers have been offered daily for her recovery, if, indeed it could be the will of Him, the loving Father above. Drawn together in a common sorrow because of her continued illness, friends over the entire city and community mourn together today, and extend sincere sympathy to the bereaved family in their deep grief.

Mrs. Nellie Harris Stephens was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Harris of this city, and was born and reared in Bryan, where she grew from childhood into young girlhood and then into beautiful christian womanhood, taking her place as a faithful, consecrated worker in the First Presbyterian Church of this city. As a member of the church choir, a Sunday School worker, a member of the ladies' organizations, she always took an active part in the "affairs of Kingdom Work", and her passing has made a place vacant that will never be filled.

Deceased is survived by one son, Leslie Ballard of San Antonio; her husband, L. L. Stephens; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Harris; two sisters, Miss Bernice Harris and Mrs. Louise Smith, and three brothers Stuart Harris of this city, Willie Harris of Dallas and Alex Harris of Mississippi.

Bilious dull feeling

"MY old standby is Theodor's Black-Draught. I have used it off and on for about 30 years," says Mr. W. S. Reynolds, of S. P. D. & Aroclia, La.

"I get bilious and have a bad taste in my mouth. My head feels dull. I don't just feel like getting around, but doing my work. I know it isn't laziness, but biliousness. So I take a few doses of Black-Draught and when I wake up, I get up feeling like new—full pep! and ready for any kind of work."

"I can certainly recommend it." In case of biliousness and other disagreeable conditions due to constipation, Black-Draught helps to drive the poisonous impurities out of the system and tends to leave the organs in a state of normal, healthy activity.

Black-Draught is made entirely of pure medicinal roots and herbs and contains no dangerous or harmful mineral drugs. It can be safely taken by everyone.

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

Hegari Grows Well in Brazos.

In speaking of the merits of Hegari, one of the grain sorghums, J. W. McKamey, a prominent business man having extensive farming interests in the Southern part of the State, has the following to say in the Southland Farmer: "Hegari is a home builder. It is drought resisting and also non-blighting in event of too much rain. It is a feed preferred by stock. It does not shatter like the kafir corn and the gain is some larger. It is easily harvested, heads are cut with very short stems, using only a small cane knife." It will be remembered that Darso and Hegari made good yields in Brazos county last year when farmers were trying out fed crops in substitution for corn which had failed. Grimes county farmers have for several years been getting good results from Darso, using it in preference to other grain sorghums because of its resistance to "blight." There is plenty of time for Brazos county farmers to make ample feed this year, and by so doing keep at home more than a half million dollars which usually goes out for feed stuffs. What shall we do about it?

Tribute Where It Belongs.

In furthering the program of a better poultry industry in Brazos county, no other two men have contributed more this year than D. H. Reid, poultry husbandman of the College, and J. Webb Howell, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce. Dr. Reid has made it possible to distribute among club members several thousand eggs from high production, pure-bred birds, agreeing to take in exchange for each setting of eggs a pullet in the fall. This proposition created so much interest that the demand was soon beyond the available supply, whereupon Mr. Howell volunteered to put up his own money for additional eggs if they could be obtained from the several poultry raisers of the county. Through this generous spirit of enterprise several thousand additional purebred eggs were made available to club members, and poultry raisers received for their eggs cash which they needed to help meet expenses of their several poultry enterprises. We have had enough "hot air" to hatch a million eggs, but we have had too few willing to put up the "cold cash," an essential in the success of every enterprise. What success may come of these poultry projects among the club members, not all of whom will be the most successful from one cause or another, this timely assistance from Dr. Reid and Mr. Howell has stimulated club work and given a boost to the poultry industry, the far-reaching consequences of which no man can yet tell. It may mean the beginning of some purebred farm flocks which will help supply Texas with better poultry. It may mean the dawn of the commercializing of the egg business in Brazos county to such an extent that in a few years car loads of extra fancy eggs will be leaving Bryan each day for the big centers allways hungry for good eggs. Gentlemen, you may feel that you have merely planted an acorn from which a study oak may grow, but you have wrought well. Like the man whose neighbor had left him a jar of sweet pickles, "I like the spirit." May your tribe increase!

Solving Watermelon Problems.

Farmers Bulletin No. 1394, U. S. Department of Agriculture, deals with watermelon problems, such as soils, fertilizers, pruning, diseases—such as root-knot, anthracnose, stem-end rot. Anthracnose is usually observed after prolonged rains, its presence being detected by dark spots appearing on the leaves, causing them to die and the disease eventually reaching the melons. The disease may be held in check by spraying with Bordeaux mixture 2-2-50. The mixture is made of copper sulphate, quicklime and water. For spraying other than watermelons, cherry, and peach, use the 4-4-50 formula as a fungicide.

Nicotine Dust for Plant Lice.

Watch your young melon plants for plant lice. Nicotine dust will do the work. Don't dust when dew is on.

Three Good Meetings Held.

Three fine club meetings last week, Kurten, Monday night; Smetana, Wednesday night; and Shirock, Saturday night. The Shirock club reported nineteen present out of a membership of 20, with one new member. Adolph Wathuber is watching his club project so closely that he has observed that his pig's tail has taken on an extra curl, evidently due to the shorts and sweet milk he has been feeding. At any rate, Adolph won the ten baby chicks offered for the best report, based on manner of report, completeness, results.

Troubles And Their Solutions.

At the Kurten Club meeting on May 17, County Agent C. L. Beason suggested that each report giving an account of trouble should also include the remedy found, if any, or put all club members to work trying to find the remedy for the trouble, or cure for the disease. Otherwise little progress could be made, or the experiences of one club member meeting with trouble would not serve another to advantage, if he or she should meet with the same trouble. The story, or history, of your club work when turned in at the end of the year should be complete in that it not only recites the success and failures, but also what came of each. Prepare now to make your story interesting and helpful.

Shirock Girls' And Boys' Club Met Saturday

The boys and girls of Shirock met at 8:30 Saturday, May 22. The president called the house to order and the secretary read the minutes. Then County Agent C. L. Beason gave a talk. He asked State Club Leader R. W. Persons and V. J. Boriskie to be judges while the roll was called. Everyone told of their projects. Mr. Beason gave ten baby chicks to the one who told their project best. Adolph Wathuber won the chicks. Then Mr. Beason asked our yell leader to sing some songs so we sang "Bill Grogan's Goat," "Everybody Works With Shirock," and "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here—It surely was. A yell, "Happy Hooligan" followed and a violin solo by Mr. Beason and another by Charles McIntosh. Then we talked about going to Steele's Store.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Boriskie, Mrs. T. H. Krenke, Mrs. A. J. Tabor, Mrs. Anton Krenke, J. W. Dominik, R. W. Our next meeting will be June 26th. We wish you all would come. VICTORIA DOMINIK, Reporter.

Brazos County A.-M. Club Will Give Barbecue

President F. E. Lichte presided over the special called meeting of the Brazos County A. and M. Club on Monday noon in the Mess Hall Annex at College Station. There were about 25 loyal exes present at this, a business session. Following the introduction of a special guest, H. H. Willis, graduate of Clemson College, 1917, now with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Washington, D. C., President Lichte announced that on Wednesday afternoon between the hours of 4:00 and 6:00 o'clock there would be on the campus some 150 to 200 Shriners and their wives, coming through on the special train from Waco, headed for Philadelphia.

This matter was elaborated on by Colonel Ike Ashburn who also discussed the preparations and arrangements that the Club might begin to make now for the 50th Commencement exercises and the entertainment to be furnished to the members of the first graduating class who will be on the campus at that time for a kind of a reunion. The suggestion was made by Mr. Ashburn that the club sponsor a barbecue supper to be given free with the exes visiting College during Commencement week. The chair entertained such a motion and it was made by Geo. Long, received a second and was carried unanimously by yeas and nays.

In his talk Mr. Ashburn had made a number of suggestions as to special and detailed work that the club might, through committees undertake to take charge of. These committees were appointed by President Lichte as follows: Barbecue, G. A. Long, chairman; E. M. Regenbrecht and Walter Wiprecht; Sleeping committee to arrange quarters, B. D. Millican

(Special to the Eagle)

MILLICAN, May 26.—Friday night, May 21, the Millican Community Club held a very interesting meeting.

The Millican Club has been re-organized lately, and this was the second meeting of the club.

The president, Mrs. C. B. McGregor, called the house to order, and opened the program with an invocation by Rev. J. W. McCrary, Jr. Then, "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" was sung by the club, with open hearts, after which the minutes were read by the secretary, Winnie Burrows.

The club noted a marked change in the number present at this meeting, and in the last meeting for only 75 were present the first meeting and 85 at this meeting.

The president gave a short talk on "Faith." She pointed out the four things we should have faith in and in how we should have faith in our community.

She talked at length on the fine program committee, and what fine programs were being arranged for the club's pleasure.

At the end of her talk she read a portion of a poem submitted by the program committee for a suitable motto.

Votes were cast and the motto was adopted.

Miss Erin Simpson was then called on and gave a short talk on "Progress," after which a debate was given.

The debate was on the question, "That more is learned in school than out of school."

Georgia Earl Dunlap and Alma Lewis Williams defended the affirmative side and Kathleen Meredith and Weldon Hagen defended the negative side.

The affirmative was victorious, however.

Miss Ewin, one of the teachers in our school, presented a program of patriotic nature which was enjoyed very much by the club.

Then every one was dismissed and reported that they would surely be back for the next meeting.

Mrs. T. J. McCallum spent last week here with her father, who is ill.

The baccalaureate sermon of the Millican senior class was preached Sunday night, May 23.

Rev. Roy S. Hollomon, of the College Avenue Baptist Church of Bryan, delivered the sermon.

He took for his subject "Conquer and Subdue the World."

The eighth and ninth grade made up the choir and sang for the procession "Time and Eternity."

They also sang "Onward Christian Soldiers," "His Eye Is On the Sparrow," and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."
